

THE DIABETES AND METABOLISM SEMINAR SERIES

Addressing Sex/Gender in Metabolism Research: Considerations from the Bench to the Community

Thursday, December 8, 2022; 12:30 pm - 4:15 pm

UW South Lake Union - Brotman Auditorium

In-Person Only | Half Day Symposium | Register at: diabetesmetabseminars.com

- 12:30 pm Reception & Socializing
- 1:00 pm Pandora 'Luke' Wander, MD, MS Assistant Professor
Dept. of Medicine, Division of General Internal Medicine; UW
Why Consider Sex in Diabetes and Obesity Research: Examples in the Context of Pregnancy.
- 1:30 pm Laura Anderson, PhD Associate Professor
Dept. of Health Research Methods, Evidence, & Impact; McMaster University
Sex and Gender Differences in the Measurement of Obesity Across the Life Course
- 2:00 pm Break & Refreshments
- 2:15 pm Karen Reue, PhD Associate Professor
Dept. of Human Genetics and Medicine; University of California, Los Angeles
The Impact of Chromosomal Sex on Obesity and Related Disorders
- 2:45 pm Mauricio Dorfman, PhD Research Assistant Professor
Dept. of Medicine, Division of Metabolism, Endocrinology and Nutrition; UW
Sex Differences in Hypothalamic Inflammation and Metabolic Disease
- 3:15 pm Judy Regensteiner, PhD Professor
Dept. of Medicine, Divisions of General Internal Medicine and Cardiology;
University of Colorado; Anschutz Medical Campus
Influence of Sex and Gender on Cardiovascular Complications of Diabetes
- 3:45 pm Panel Discussion with UW Moderator Ellen Schur, MD, MS
A moderated event to give speakers the opportunity to share insight on issues related to sex/gender in metabolism science.

Jointly Sponsored by UW Medicine Diabetes Institute, UW Nutrition Obesity Research Center, Diabetes Research Center, and Collaborative on Obesity Research and Action (CORA)